

Ireland is still threatened with Fracking - extraction of methane gas from rock using huge volumes of water and toxic chemicals. The fracking industry operates with huge risks to our public health and contamination of our land, water and air. Applications for licences to frack are still on the Minister's desk.

Members of the General Public!

The Campaign against Fracking needs your support. Fracking must be made an election issue and candidates in EVERY constituency must be lobbied. There are many ways to get involved in the campaign and to let your voice be heard. SIGN THE PLEDGE to support the campaign.
